

provider to provide the services you are seeking. Once that is completed, a packet of information is sent into the state for final approval and the individual can enter into the desired services.